WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN THE NEW YEAR

In turning into the new year, thoughtful people will focus attention on many phases of our world scene. Among them are the following:

Wickedness, cruelty, suffering.

Unusual sorrow is increasing for many people. In that sense, the human race is united as never before. We cannot escape. We who have no sons or brothers in actual combat still cannot thereby escape. Note in particular, the wholesale murder of Jewish people of Europe. Most of us will live to see the Nazi criminals pay for this unspeakable crime. Hundreds of thousands of Jews shot!

"All Out" production.

It can be done. In 1942 America switched from peace time production and living to total war. Now watch two results follow. One, we will turn back the Axis on all fronts in 1943. Two, never again will the people submit to the philosophy of scarcity. If we can go all out to whip Hitler, we will never again submit to poverty.

Asia comes to life. Christianity and world trade and travel have brought the one and one-third billions of yellow people in Asia to life in our generation. These people from now on will not yield to the domination of any other peoples: Japanese, British, French, Americans, nor Germans. This is another reason why Hitler will never master the world.

The schools "join up" High schools are to give all students preinduction courses. Colleges lay aside liberal education for the duration. What this means to the youth of today and to the world, only the future can tell.

Peace terms.

Have you read Mr. Wallace's discussions of peace terms? Did you know that some are saying we have already lost this war - the war to free all peoples? That this already draws the lines for the next world war? The people must create the next peace.

ALLIES HOLD OFFENSIVE

December witnessed no great military victory on any front. It brought no victory at all for the Axis, and a continuous offensive on all fronts by the Allies.

In Asia, the heroic Chinese fight on. The British march from India into Burma. American air fighters batter Japanese bases relentlessly. Nowhere are the Japanese on the offensive.

In the Pacific, the Americans push steadily forward, defeating all efforts of the Japs to reenforce their embattled forces. Tojo warns his people to get ready to fight.

In Africa, Darlan is dead, the French are more solidly with the Allies. The decisive battle will break any time.

Stalingrad is free! Hitler has suffered his greatest defeat!

EXTRA

MOSCOW, Jan. 1 - The Russians, inspired by their full victory at Stalingrad, are bent on eliminating the 300,000 Germans now trapped in nearby regions.

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 1 - In the air, over Wake Island, our fighters are complete masters. Tojo was right - 1943 will bring to Japan more war than they want.

Small Stones Also Serve

While piling stones behind our new fence, I was reminded of a story that David Grayson tells in his inspiring book, The Countrymans Year.

Yesterday I was talking with an old country philosopher I know. He was laying a stone wall and commented on the indispensability of small stones to keep the large ones in place--to make the wall solid

"And I was thinkin'," said he, "of the need of small men, like me, to keep the big ones in place. They can't leave a man of us out."

"That's what they sometimes forget," said I.

"Yes, sir, they forget - but it ain't for long. Their walls fall down."

(Con'd. next column.)

Your Place

Is your place a small place?

Tend it with care!

He set you there.

Is your place a large place?

Guard it with care!

He set you there.

Whate'er your place, it is

Not yours alone, but his

Who set you there.

-John Oxenham.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

In America today, we need the small stones as well as the big stones to build up our wall of defense. Without the little man, the big plant must close down. Without the united efforts of the little men, the big cause may be lost. No matter how small we are, if we do our part we can help hold up the wall.--Silver Lining.

STORY-STICK PEOPLE
Flying Chips to the Rescue!

For days Capture had been trailing the outlaws who had his pal Jimmy held a prisoner. As he crept near their hiding place, he heard the outlaw chief say, "All right Jimmy, this is the end for you. If you won't help us get Capture, we will throw you in the fire!"

"All right," Jimmy said, "go ahead and throw me in the fire I will never betray my pal."

Capture, in the meantime had climbed to the top of a tree and lassoed a tree on the other side of the outlaws. Just as they were about to throw Jimmy into the fire, he swung down and hooked his legs around Jimmy's neck and swung with him into the underbrush on the other side of the outlaw's camp. Quickly they mounted their horses that were waiting there and dashed to safety. When they were out of reach of the outlaws they stopped to decide what to do. "That was the chief of the outlaws," Jimmy said. "Let's sneak back and get him."

"All right, let's go," Capture agreed, so they sneaked back to the outlaws hideout. They were creeping up on the camp when the outlook spotted them. He ran quickly and told the outlaw chief. The outlaws quickly prepared an ambush. As soon as Capture and Jimmy came in sight they began firing on them. But Capture had expected something like that. He and Jimmy jumped behind some rocks and a ferocious battle took place. Knowing that they were too far from the town for shots to be heard and that no one would come to help them, Capture called his horse, Flying Chips.

He patted the horse on the head and said, "it's up to you, old pal. You'll have to bring help. There are too many for us to handle. Run now - run - run to town - bring help!"

The horse nodded his head as if he understood and turned and ran at a terrific speed down the road. He was really earning his name of Flying Chips. He dashed into the town with a terrific clatter and plunged and snorted about until the streets were full of people who had come out to see what was the matter.

"Why, it's Capture's horse. It's Flying Chips!" said Capture's most trusted deputy. "Something's wrong. We will organize a posse and follow Flying Chips. He will lead us to Capture!"

They quickly formed a posse and were soon on the road following Flying Chips and riding at top speed.

They dashed up and surrounded the outlaw's camp before they had time to get away. They took them completely by surprise. The outlaws were rounded up and marched off to jail.

Everyone was so happy and pleased that they gave Flying Chips a party and served a double portion of sawdust.

"Thanks old pal," Capture said to his horse. "You saved our lives."

Game - Does it Whistle?

Suddenly Dickie (who is called Dickie because her name is Veronica) starts the queer game called Does it Whistle.

She turns to Ed on her right and says, "Do you want to buy a whistle?" Ed looks her straight in the eye and says, "Does it whistle?"

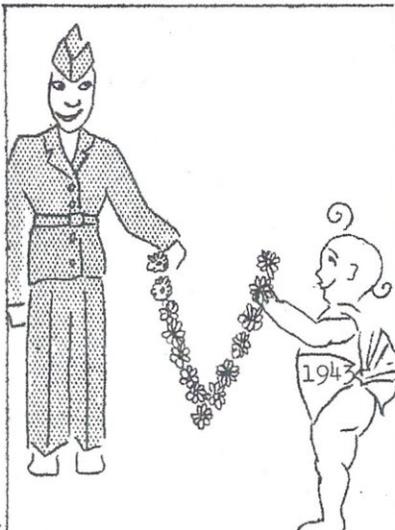

Dickie replies, "It whistles."

Ed snaps his head towards Dorthy on his right and asks, "Do you want to buy a whistle?" Dorthy who is never serious except during silly games asks, "Does it whistle?" Then Ed turns back to Dickie and says, "Does it whistle?" Dickie says to Ed, "It whistles." Ed turns to Dorthy and says, "It whistles." Dorthy then asks Everett on her right, "Do you want to buy a whistle?" Everett asks, "Does it whistle?" Dorthy says to Ed, "Does it whistle?" Ed again asks Dickie, "Does it whistle?" Dickie answers, "It whistles." Ed says to Dorthy, "It whistles." The answer goes on up the line back to Everett who then asks the person on his right, "Do you want to buy a whistle?", and so on.

If your tastes are more rural, a hen can be used instead.

"Do you want to buy a hen?"
"Does it cackle?", etc.

PRIVATE SMITH ...- 1943

My gift to you, Private Smith.

A man had been brought before the court charged with vagrancy. Fixing a withering glare on the culprit, the magistrate thundered, "Have you ever earned an honest dollar in all your life?"

"Oh yes, your honor," the accused answered, "I voted for you in the last election."

Teacher: Ants are the most industrious insects in the world.

Bobby: Then how do they find time to go to all the picnics?

Landlady (Laughingly): I don't suppose you know what it means to be hungry, Mr. Smith?

Boarder: No, but I'm learning.

Mother: Why did you give Tommy Smith your nice new ball, Bobby?

Bobby: He promised to let me be Secretary of the Navy when he becomes President of the United States, that's why!

"That wasn't a very big account of your daughter's wedding in the paper."

"No, the big account was sent to me."
